Communion Reflection... In a previous reflection we wrote about caring for our parents' garden. It is good for us to think about this again and remember it all started in a garden: the world, all its creatures, our creation out of the void and nothingness and into being. God created a garden, and intended us to live in deep relationship with God and one another, as good stewards of it all. Now, as then and always, it is a central part of the human vocation that we be good stewards of what we have received—this garden, this divine human workshop, this world and all that is in it—setting minds and hearts and hands to the task of creating and redeeming in cooperation with our God, Creator and Lord of all. How will you set your mind and heart and hands to tend the garden God has entrusted to you?

From the Pastor's Desk

Some people like to be in control of everything and everyone. They wear themselves out paying attention to details and making sure that all things are done their way. Other people are the complete opposite. Their whole life is one of disorganization and indecision. God prefers things somewhere in the middle. He created us and guides our life but He also gave us a free will to handle things as we please. He has confidence in our ability and if we choose to go against His will then we will have to pay the consequences. Even at that, He always gives us the opportunity to correct our mistakes and start over again. It all boils down to knowing what it is exactly we are in charge of and what we are not. How well we know the difference determines how happy we will be in this life.

Sept. 16 - Feast of St. Cornelius

Pope & Martyr. St. Cornelius was elected Pope in 251 AD during the persecutions of the Emperor Decius. His first challenge, besides the ever present threat of the Roman authorities, was to bring an end to the schism brought on by his rival, the first anti-pope Novatian. He convened a synod of bishops to confirm him as the rightful successor of Peter. The great controversy that arose as a result of the Decian persecution was whether or not the Church could pardon and receive back into the Church those who had apostacized (denied their faith) in the face of martyrdom. Against both the bishops who argued that the Church could not welcome back apostates, and those who argued that they should be welcomed back but did not demand a heavy penance of the penitent, Cornelius decreed that they must be welcomed back and insisted that they perform an adequate penance. In 253 AD Cornelius was exiled by the emperor Gallus and died of the hardships he endured in exile. He is venerated as a martyr.

Provide A Meal... It takes a community to make positive changes in the lives of people, and you are a large part of that change. Thanks to you, the Good Shepherd Ministries is able to provide a special meal for those struggling with hunger in our community today and tomorrow. Chili's may be dropped off in the freezer, located in the porch of the house at St. John's Church. Pans and recipes are available.

On life's journey, so many of us insist on carrying such a heavy burden of guilt that the trip has become almost unbearable. For some reason, we are reluctant to let go of this terrible guilt that is weighing us down. Today our Scripture readings are full of good news. What better news could there be than GOD IS WAITING FOR US WITH OPEN ARMS – ready to throw a party for us when we decide to turn away from our wrong doing, and come back home once again? If, at this time, you are suffering because you find yourselves caught in some kind of sin that you are despairing of, then take these readings to heart. Read them over and over again until you are utterly convinced of their truthfulness. God does not hold grudges. God is not sneaking around, waiting for us to sin, so that he can pounce on us. On the contrary, God is ready and waiting. Ready to forgive us – waiting for us to have even the slightest regret for what we have done. We don't have to come crawling into God's presence with fear and trembling. Forgiveness and new life are the gifts that God is always ready and willing to lavish on us. May we all have the courage and wisdom to let God bring forgiveness to our lives and joy to our hearts.

Pope Leo XIV @Pontifex We face moments

when holding things inside can slowly consume us. Jesus teaches us not to be afraid to cry out, as long as our cry is sincere, humble, and directed to the Father. A cry is never pointless, if it is born of love. And it is never ignored, if it is entrusted to God. It is one way to continue to believe that another world is possible.

Deacon Silverio would like to express his heartfelt thanks and deep appreciation for all those who offered their support, prayers and kind expressions of sympathy on the passing of his mother.
